

Use Case Diagram

Since we're not building an app or website, we decided to create a representation of how passengers and drivers interact with the different elements of the niner transit system for visualization purposes.

